

A Message from the Editor

This special issue of the IAJIT contains the best presented papers in the International Arab Conference on Information Technology ACIT'2020, the online conference. These papers have been reviewed by a second committee to be approved for the journal publication. We really thank all who help in production this issue on time. The paper authors are commended for complying with the deadlines and the format of the journal. I would like to thank Dr. Mohamed Hassan for all his great efforts in all the activities of the ACIT'2020 conference and the subsequent supervision who helped produce this issue.

Prof. Hany Harb
Dean of Faculty of Information Technology
Misr University for Science and Technology (MUST)
Egypt